

The Descendants of Robert Shawhan (1764-1833)

by Ronald T. Shawhan

The Robert Shawhan lineage traces itself back to DARBY SHAWHAN a Scotch-Irish immigrant who arrived in Kent County, Maryland in about 1698 — he may have come by way of Barbados. We know that he was an illiterate but industrious farmer, growing tobacco, on land known as “Darby’s Desire”, which was/is located a short distance north-west of the city of Kennedyville, in Kent County, MD; he and his wife, Sarah Meeks, lie buried on these grounds. Darby and Sarah were married in the still existing St. Paul’s Church, on November 20, 1707 — that union produced eight children, including Daniel (1709-177?), the direct ancestor of Robert.

DANIEL SHAWHAN was a farmer and a tanner — i.e. one skilled in such leatherwork as shoe-making. He married Jennet (last name unknown) and had several children, including Daniel (1738-1791). Daniel, b. 1709, migrated from Kent County to Frederick County, MD in about 1740, and subsequently to Hampshire County, VA/WV in about 1759. Along the way he fought in the militia during the French and Indian War and provided ferry service to the defeated troops of General Braddock as they returned to Maryland, bloodied from the mauling they received at the hands of the French and their Indian allies when the British tried to capture Ft. Duquesne (Pittsburgh); Braddock himself had been killed during the action and the surviving troops were saved from total destruction primarily through the efforts of Colonel George Washington.

DANIEL SHAWHAN(1738-1791) was born in Kent County and migrated with his father westward thru Frederick County into Hampshire County, VA where he married Margaret Bell in about 1762, near Romney, VA/WV; Margaret, the daughter of Robert and Agnes (Fleming) Bell, has been described as having “hair like the sunsets, filled with gold and red.” They had eight children, one of whom was Robert, b. 1764. Daniel, Margaret, and their family, together with the Bells, migrated, in about 1771, to Allegheny County, PA, in present-day Chartiers Valley, near Carnegie, PA. where they prospered as farmers and as distillers of fine whiskey. Daniel also served in the Pennsylvania Militia during the Revolutionary War, as did his son Robert. During the period known as the Whiskey Rebellion, when western Pennsylvania farmers/distillers refused to pay taxes on their spirits, Daniel pulled up stakes and traveled down the Ohio River to what was then western Virginia, present-day Kentucky. He resumed distilling whiskey, in Bourbon County, KY, where his secret formula for “bourbon” became known far and wide for its smooth taste; the Shawhan brand of whiskey continued to be sold through the 1970s. The little town of Shawhan, KY, a still-existing hamlet near Paris, KY, was established before the Civil War by one of the descendants of this Daniel as a railroad shipping point for the produce, including whiskey, of the area.

A detailed summary of ROBERT SHAWHAN and his descendants follows.

First Generation

1. Robert SHAWHAN,<sup>1</sup> son of Daniel SHAWHAN and Margaret Fry BELL, was born in Hampshire Co., VA/WVA March 5, 1764. Robert died February 25, 1833 in Allegheny Co., PA, at 68 years of age. He married Mary WILLIAMS in Allegheny Co., PA, about 1788. Mary was born July 12, 1766. Mary died 15 Apr 1826 in Allegheny Co., PA. Robert served during the Rev. War as a Private, Pa. Militia, in Capt. Zadock Wright’s Co., under Lt. John Cannon and Ensign George Brice. When the rest of the family migrated to the Kentucky District of VA, Robert elected to remain in Pennsylvania, taking over his father Daniel’s farm. Like many others in western PA, he farmed staples such as rye and corn, primarily for the eastern markets. Transportation over the mountains, however, was quite difficult and expensive -- a horse could carry only four bushels of grain. So Robert joined hundreds of others in the area in the distillation of whiskey — the equivalent of 24 bushels of grain could be converted into two large wooden kegs and loaded across a horse’s back. A gallon of rye whiskey became a standard bartering medium, as there were few hard pieces of shilling available. The 1790 Census lists Robert as being in Allegheny Co., PA. In March 1791, the young American Federal government was desperate for funds and the Secretary of the Treasury, Alexander Hamilton, pushed thru an excise tax upon distilled spirits, to be paid in hard money. The resultant uproar among the farmers of western Pa. erupted into what history calls “The Whiskey Rebellion”. The unrest was finally calmed in 1794, when President Washington dispatched 13,000 troops under “Light Horse Harry” Lee to western Pa. to quell the rebels. In the interim, however, federal revenue agents were tarred and feathered or worse, and regular skirmishes occurred in confrontations between the “Whiskey Boys” and those who were trying to enforce or pay the hated tax; friends became enemies as some farmers elected to pay the tax while the majority refused to do so. “Pennsylvania Historical Collections”, by Sherman Day, pub. 1843, in its summary of the “Whiskey Insurrection”, records, “In January 1794, further violence commenced. Robert Strawhan (Shawhan), a complying distiller, had his barn burnt”. Robert’s will left his farm to his eldest son, Daniel, and describes the property as being near Chartiers Creek, adjacent to the lands of John Bell — John Bell was a member of the same Bell family from which came Margaret Bell, the spouse of Daniel Shawhan, 1738-1791. The Bells and the Shawhans both migrated to the Chartiers area, from Hampshire Co, VA/WV, probably in the late 1770s. Many of the critical dates re Robert’s family were taken directly from his Bible which, in 1938, was in the hands of Margaret Barclay, one of his descendents.

Nathaniel died September 19, 1869 in Louisville, Jefferson Co., KY, at 80 years of age. Nathaniel served during the War of 1812 as an Ensign in the “Hunting Shirt Company”, under Captain James Turbett, 1st Regt., PA Militia, Allegheny County. After the War he managed his father’s flour mill in Allegheny County. Key sources are his 1851 request for bounty land and his widow’s 1873 pension application based on his service during the War of 1812. The Pittsburgh Gazette of Nov. 8, 1814 listed Nathaniel as the administrator of his father Jesse’s will. From file of Merry Anne Pierson: “ Still living with Hehetable on 1820 Census. Shows up on 1830 census as Nathaniel Piercon. Children listed are those enumerated with him on the 1830 census. No wife listed. These could be siblings. From his pension documents and Samuel Walker Pearson’s letter included with the documents. Lived in Birmingham, near Pittsburgh until spring of 1869, went to Louisville, KY to be near eldest daughter and a son in glass business; died there but was returned to Allegheny Co. for burial.” Jane and Nathaniel were married at the home of her father, Robert Shawhan.

3. Mary SHAWHAN (Robert 1)<sup>6</sup> was born in Allegheny Co., PA April 26, 1795. Mary died August 12, 1849 in PA, at 54 years of age. Mary may have died during the cholera epidemic which scourged the western part of Pa. in 1849. The particulars of Oliver’s birth and why he retained the Shawhan name are unknown. Proof of his being the son of Mary is based on a Record of Deeds in which heirs of Mary convey property to “her son Oliver Shawhan”. (see Boro of Birmingham, Allegheny Co., PA, Deeds, Vol. 88, pg. 21, Sept. 7, 1849).

During the 1898-1905 time frame, Daniel’s heirs obtained detailed lot maps showing the location of the property to which they were entitled. The property, encompassing several lots, was located in Scott Twp., Allegheny Co, Pa.; one set of lots was situated between Bell Avenue and Bent Alley, adjacent to the Pittsburgh, Chartiers, & Youghiogheny RR. Other lots were off of Shawhan Avenue, near Ridge and Northside Avenues. These were in the vicinity of East Carnegie, Pa. Daniel and other Shawhans are buried in this same area, in Chartiers Cemetery. Many other Shawhans, also descendents of Robert, are buried in South Side Cemetery, a short distance east of Carnegie. “The History of Allegheny County” (1889) states that Daniel owned the property left to him by Robert who in turn received it from his father, Daniel (1738-1791); it described the property as being near Mount Lebanon Church. The same article identifies Daniel as being both a farmer and also one engaged in the coal business, having had coal discovered on his land.

38. William Woodrow SHAWHAN (William Woodward 74) was born in WV. He married Agnes ZIRKLE. William was known as “Peach” — as in “Peaches and Cream”. He was also a miner. He would often join his brother Howard in the fun of hunting frogs and turtles. He lived with his sister Pearl for many years, and is remembered by her grandchildren for the stories he used to tell and the wood toys he made for them. Peach also did a little moonshining on the side, using old, shut-down mines for his still locations. A family story tells of Peach being approached, in Hepizibah, by a revenue agent who was trying to trap Peach into selling him some moonshine. As it turned out, Peach was holding a shoe box with four pints in it; he told the agent that he probably could find four pints for him, and asked for the money so that he could go off and find some — he asked the revenue agent to hold his “shoes” until he returned — of course Peach never returned. Eventually Peach was sent to jail for six months in Moundsville, WV, for bootlegging; he worked in the mines owned by the jail to make the time go faster. He and his nephew Carl used to work in the mines at Zeising and in the Newman mines at Little Rock Camp.

Hattie met Robert in Gypsy, WV, where he was a coal miner and Hattie was one of the girls who brought drinking water to the workers. Robert was known as being excellent with his hands, particularly as a carpenter who would buy homes in need of repair, then remodel them and resell them for a profit. He also built a little church for his sister Pearl in Little Rock Camp, WV.

41. Marcey Pearl SHAWHAN (William Woodward 74)<sup>63</sup> was born in Marietta, OH March 16, 1899. Marcey died January 13, 1996 in Wallace, WV, at 96 years of age. She married John Hager EARNEST in Hepzibah, WV, May 20, 1920. John was born in Becky's Creek, WV February 2, 1900. John<sup>64</sup> was the son of Gorton Christopher EARNEST and Mary Ellen WORECK. John died November 24, 1950 in Wallace, WV, at 50 years of age. John is remembered by his children as being a jack-of-all-trades, who would try anything to put food on the table when the coal mines would close down. He raised a few cattle, chickens, and hogs and operated a saw mill for a time. Though there were nine children in the family, and occasionally a couple more "strays", they never went hungry. He died of a heart attack, during the Thanksgiving, 1950 snow storm, after his car broke down and he had to walk almost 10 miles through the snow to get home, dying that same night. The name "Earnest" was originally "Ernst" when the family first immigrated to the US from Germany, probably in the 1700s.

Pearl was the family historian and much of what you see in this lineage was due to her maintenance of the family Bible and related records. She raised nine children when times were very hard in this coal mining region of West Virginia and was noted for her firm religious beliefs and for her generosity to one and all. Her children recall her superb cooking, in all situations, especially the "white gravy, cooked with butter, milk, and occasionally ham leavings, with homemade bread, cornbread, or biscuits". For a time, in the 1930s, the family lived in a log house, with three rooms — "a big room where we kids slept, usually four to a bed, a dining room where Mom and Dad slept, and a long kitchen". Sometimes, when guests were present, some of the kids would sleep up in an attic loft, and they remember waking up to find snow on their bed because it had blown thru the chinks in the logs during the night. They had a "three holer (outhouse) — two normal size and a smaller one for the babies". The family had many moves, resulting in Pearl's comment that "the chickens got so used to moving that they would roll over and lift their legs to be tied." Another of her bits of advice was "As you travel down life's pathway, no matter what your goal, keep your eye on the doughnut and not on the hole." She enjoyed poetry and found great pleasure in the fact that her kin, James Martin Shawhan, of Marietta, Ohio, had published a book on poems, titled "Unpolished Pebbles". Her son, Thomas Lowell, built a new home for her, but she didn't feel comfortable in it. A busy, active, compassionate person, Pearl cared for the little cemetery at the top of Trouser Leg Hill; she also made favors to take with her on her once-a-month visits to a local nursing home, and made a quilt for each new family baby. In addition, she always made an early Sunday morning visit to light the fires and make sure that everything at her church, the Little Rock Camp Baptist Church, was ready for services. On top of all of that, Pearl also cooked at the local school, which was attended by many of her children and grandchildren. It was Pearl who was behind the annual July 4th Shawhan/Earnest reunion, attended by relatives near and far. Pearl's home was in the same hollow in which lived many of her children and other kin folk, such as the Powers family; the house was just below the Baptist Church, which was located at the fork in the road. It wasn't unusual for "Mammaw" to have one or more grandkids staying overnight with her. When Pearl passed away in 1996, she left behind many fond memories and 101 gr-gr-gr-children.

At the age of 75, she is also learning to use a PC, the one built for her by her brother, John — she’s anxious to use the internet to surf Bible web sites. John's wife, Marlene, is actively involved in Bible studies and became enthused about the use of a PC to assist her in her religious work. The result was that John initially bought a PC several years ago and since then has himself built seven PCs from kits — for he and Marlene, for his sister, June, and his grandkids. John shared many stories about his mother and father and the life they had in the hills and hollows of West Virginia.

John was born August 26, 1938. Phyllis has been extremely helpful in putting together the dates, names, etc of the Shawhan/Earnest family relationships and in calling to mind many stories involving her Mother, Pearl. One such story, sworn to by the family, is the tale of the "Angel's Visit". This occurred while the family was living in a little cabin in the Laurel Lee mining camp. It was pouring rain outside, towards dusk, when they heard a knock on the door and Pearl answered it to find outside a little old man, with white hair, in a blue shirt, and with bright blue eyes — she was surprised to see him completely dry even though it was raining extremely hard. He explained that he was looking for a place to stay for a short while, had knocked on several other doors, but had been told that he should come to Pearl's house to find shelter. He and Pearl talked about many things while she fixed him some food, discovering that he had been everywhere she had been. He accepted her offer for him to stay the night, and when she arose early the next morning she called to him to stay in bed until she got the stove going and fixed some breakfast — he responded affirmatively. There were two doors in the little cabin, the front door and straight ahead a back door — both doors were easily visible. After she had fixed some breakfast, Pearl called for the little gentleman to join her, only to discover that he had disappeared — neither she nor the children had seen him go. In checking with the neighbors, Pearl could find no one who recalled seeing him the night before. In her mind he was an angel who had decided to visit them, in keeping with her religious faith that you should never turn away someone at your door because it could be an angel. Phyllis also recalled her Mother's great cooking, including the eggs and mushrooms cooked for breakfast, with cornbread — mushrooms picked fresh by her Mother and carried into the house in her apron. She likewise remembered the yellow cake made with duck eggs. Phyllis is employed as a florist and her husband, John, is a maintenance man with the Levittsburg, Ohio school system. They are strong Baptists, true to the roots established during their childhood.

In like vein, he has developed a "Grandpa's Book Report Program", featuring a list of more than 2800 books that he uses in contests to prompt the children to become readers and develop their knowledge of culture and history — e.g. bios, biblical readings, best sellers, youth books, etc; their book reports result in small financial incentives from grandpa to read further. There have been six grandchildren who participate in the program — Kelly, Meghan, Leigh Anne, Kerry, Matthew, and Courtney. Also, every year, Wilbur distributes "Pages of Time", a kind of "You Are There" approach recapturing births, marriages, local/national news, tornadoes, songs, temperatures, and other items of interest to the family that occurred during that particular year. "Pages of Time" also includes a look at a past year in the family's history — e.g. 1852 and what happened to their ancestors at that time — where they lived, their ages, life styles, etc. Mary has been a telephone operator and a homemaker in Canton, OH. She and her husband, Wilbur Sanders, have been extremely helpful in researching Shawhan Family history, dating back to Robert Shawhan, 1828-1905, and his wife, Eva Hart, 1830-1888. On Oct. 24, 1944, however, while off the island of Leyte in the Philippines, the ship was struck by a bomb from a Japanese plane — the bomb crashed through the flight deck and the hangar deck before exploding.

Despite the crew's heroic efforts to save her, the Princeton was abandoned and then sunk by US destroyer torpedoes. Ray was among the 1361 survivors. He finished the War while serving on the cruiser USS Columbus.

Pat is a history buff and Barb loves solving puzzles, so finding their roots is right up their alley. Almost all of Robert's descendents, located to date, lived in what is known as the "Southside" of Pittsburgh — i.e. generally south of the Monongahela River. Pat served in the US Army, 1955-1957, as an enlisted man in armor/infantry, including duty in Italy.
